Benefits of the release of Student Weight Status Category Reporting System (SWSCR) data through Health.data.ny.gov.

- Makes public statewide, regional, county and school district-level data on student weight status to external partners in a format that supports analysis and use
- Enables research on county and district-level characteristics associated with rates of obesity and overweight among school-aged children
- Encourages local level planning to address overweight and obesity in school-aged children