Benefits of Managed Care Plan Utilization Data

Allow the public to understand the frequency of certain services provided by a health plan performed in the areas of outpatient, inpatient, mental health, alcohol and other drug, selected procedures, and antibiotic prescriptions.

Compare types of insurances across a standardized national measurement set.

Represents information about the utilization of health care being delivered by providers across the health care delivery system (inpatient and outpatient services) for people insured by managed care health plans.