Potential Research Questions

Examples of potential research questions using these data include:

- What are the number of cancers, by type, within a particular hospital catchment area?
- What methods should be used to measure and depict spatial structure in the data?
- To what extent does this spatial structure reflect the distributions of New Yorkers by socioeconomic status, race, ethnicity, behavioral risk factors, and environmental exposures?