Type	The type of Adult Care Facility
AH	Adult Home – An adult home is established and operated for the purpose of providing long-term residential care, room, board, housekeeping, personal care and supervision to five or more adults unrelated to the operator. Adult Homes may be operated by a natural person, a partnership, a not-for-profit corporation, a public corporation, a non-publicly traded business corporation, or a limited liability company
ALP	Assisted Living Program – An assisted living program, which is available in some adult homes and enriched housing programs, combines residential and home care services. It is designed as an alternative to nursing home placement for individuals who historically have been admitted to nursing facilities for reasons that are primarily social, rather than medical in nature. The operator of an assisted living program is responsible for providing or arranging for resident services that must include room, board, housekeeping, supervision, personal care, case management, and home health services.

EHP	Enriched Housing Program – An enriched housing program is established and operated for the purpose of providing long-term residential care to five or more adults, primarily persons sixty-five years of age or older, in community-integrated settings resembling independent housing units. The program provides or arranges for the provision of room, board, housekeeping, personal care, and supervision. Enriched housing programs may be operated by a natural person, a partnership, a not-for-profit corporation, a non-publicly traded business corporation, or a limited liability company
